Four of Canada's national teams – Bursaspor, the Vancouver Whitecaps, Calgary Foothills and York Lions – have been wrapped up in an implosive tilt to the final of this inaugural tournament, an eight-team showdown that has taken in five cities over the past week. As a one-year-old club, the Vancouver Whitecaps should be a lock for at least a place in USL Division II's next season. After two youth-team shutouts in the tournament, the Whitecaps had just a 2-2-2 record to show for their World Cup year. That 2-2-2 tally included a home loss to the York Lions, who lost 5-0 on Thursday to Foothills FC, the winner of the tournament. "As a group we're disappointed with the result," Whitecaps youth technical director Marc Dos Santos said. "But the win was important for us." If the Whitecaps had done the same to FC Edmonton, they would have leapfrogged Edmonton for the tournament's final spot in the three-way tie. Instead, the Whitecaps opened at home to the Lions, did not score and lost 3-1. As a result, Vancouver will play at second-place Alianza Lima of Peru on Friday. The Lions then play at SLS Veterans Park against an Ottawa Fury club that drew 1-1 at Calgary's SAIT Polytechnic. A win would guarantee the Lions the final spot. "It's still an opportunity for us to qualify for the Division II
